The Great Realisation

“Tell me the one about the virus again, then I’ll go to bed”. “But, my boy, you’re growing weary, sleepy thoughts about your head”. “That one’s my favourite. Please, I promise, just once more”.

“Okay, snuggle down, my boy, but I know you all too well. This story starts before then in a world I once would dwell”. “It was a world of waste and wonder, of poverty and plenty, Back before we understood why hindsight’s 2020. You see, the people came up with companies to trade across all lands But they swelled and got much bigger than we ever could have planned We always had our wants, but now, it got so quick You could have anything you dreamed of, in a day and with a click We noticed families had stopped talking, that’s not to say they never spoke. But the meaning must have melted and the work life balance broke And the children’s eyes grew squarer and every toddler had a phone They filtered out the imperfections, but amidst the noise, they felt alone. And every day the skies grew thicker, ‘till you couldn’t see the stars, So, we flew in planes to find them, while down below we filled our cars. We drove around all day in circles, we’d forgotten how to run We swapped the grass for tarmac, shrunk the parks ‘till there were none We filled the sea with plastic because our waste was never capped Until, each day when you went fishing, you’d pull them out already wrapped And while we drank and smoked and gambled, our leaders taught us why It’s best to not upset the lobbies, more convenient to die

On the tips of my fingers lives Lakshmi, the Goddess of Fortune. In the centre of my palm resides Saraswati, the Goddess of Learning and at the base of my palm, resides Lord Govinda. Therefore, thinking in this way, first thing in the morning I look at my palms.

- Upanishad

Prayer immediately after waking up

- On the tips of my fingers lives Lakshmi, the Goddess of Fortune.
- In the centre of my palm resides Saraswati, the Goddess of Learning and at the base of my palm, resides Lord Govinda. Therefore, thinking in this way, first thing in the morning I look at my palms.
  - Upanishad
“Through shallow intellect, the mind becomes shallow, and one eats the fly, along with the sweets”
- Gurunamak

But then in 2020, a new virus came our way,
The governments reacted and told us all to hide away
But while we were all hidden, amidst the fear and all the while,
The people dusted off their instincts, they remembered how to smile
They started clapping to say thank you and calling up their mums

And while the car keys gathered dust, they would look forward to their runs
And with the skies less full of voyagers, the earth began to breathe
And the beaches bore new wildlife that scuttled off into the seas
Some people started dancing, some were singing, some were baking
We’d grown so used to bad news, but some good news was in the making
And so when we found the cure and were allowed to go outside
We all preferred the world we found to the one we’d left behind
Old habits became extinct and they made way for the new
And every simple act of kindness was now given its due"

“But why did it take us so long to bring the people back together?”
“Well, sometimes you’ve got to get sick, my boy, before you start feeling better
Now, lie down and dream of tomorrow and all the things that we can do
And who knows, if you dream hard enough, maybe some of them will come true
We now call it The Great Realization and yes, since then, there have been many
But that’s the story of how it started and why hindsight’s 2020”

One day during cold weather, I was sitting by the kitchen fire keeping myself warm and burning poems. Mother noticed it and asked what I was doing. When I told her she said: 'But I have never seen your poems!' So after that, whenever I completed the poem, I would first recite it to her and then throw it into the fire. Later in Kashi I could sit composing my poems on the banks of Ganges, and after I was satisfied with them. I would immerse them in the water.

Vinobaji's novel method of practicing detachment in life.

We lose the awareness that we are miniature cosmos (Erwin Schrödinger first proclaimed that we are whole).

Indian sages declared

As the macrocosm, so is the microcosm, as the atom, so is the universe, as the human mind, so is the cosmic mind.

Yourself and mother earth are one and the same. When we touch a new level of consciousness, a new world is created.

Suffering always brings a lesson with itself, and if we profit by those lessons as they come in our life, we are on our way to growth and maturity. The obstacles to our growth, we know them already, are our attachments, illusions and conditionings. Now, what suffering does is to uncover those hidden obstacles to us. When I find something disturbing, that means some attachment, illusion or conditioning of mine has been hit, that is my chance to become aware of it, unmask it and get rid of it. Thus, suffering is the royal way to health.
